Dear classmates,

Good morning! Today, I'm honored to speak about "Refusing School Bullying and Building a Harmonious Class", a topic that concerns every one of us.

School bullying, which may include name-calling or even physical harm, not only hurts the victims' feelings but also destroys the warm atmosphere of our class. As classmates, we should stand up to bullying—if we see it happening, we can stop it politely or report it to teachers. We should also be kind to each other, especially to students who are quiet or new.

Only when we treat each other with respect can we build a class where everyone feels safe and happy. Let's work together to make our class a warm family!

Thank you!

Good morning! I'm Li Hua, a graduate of Grade 3. Today, I want to say "thank you" to all of you from the bottom of my heart.

Over the past three years, you've stayed up late to correct our homework, patiently explained difficult problems to us, and encouraged us when we felt down. I still remember when I failed the math exam, Mr. Wang spent his free time helping me review, and finally, I passed the next exam.

Your love and care have guided us to grow. We'll never forget your teachings. I wish all teachers good health, happiness, and all the best in the future.

Thank you!

Dear friends,

Good morning! Today, I want to talk about stray animals—those poor cats and dogs that have no homes, no food, and often suffer from cold and hunger in winter. Some of them even get hurt by cars because they have nowhere to go.

We can do small things to help them: if we see a stray animal, we can give it some food and water; we can also call animal rescue organizations to help sick or injured strays. Remember, we shouldn't hurt them—they need love too.

Animals are our friends. Let's show kindness to stray animals, and make our community a warmer place for both humans and animals.

Thank you!
